Celebrate Loy Krathong – Memories of Old Siam at River Barge Restaurant and Pier 28, Chatrium Hotel Riverside Bangkok

Thailand has many festivals which are loved by locals and visitors alike, and none more so than Loy Krathong. Every year at the full moon marking the end of the rainy season, Thai people celebrate this magical festival. People make small floating krathong, traditionally a piece of banana trunk, which are covered with flowers, a candle and incense, and floated down the river to send away past negativity and to give thanks for the rains and the blessings of the river. Many people also make a wish for the coming year too.

So, come join us as the full moon fills the night sky above the majestic Chao Phraya River and celebrate Memories of Old Siam at Chatrium Riverside Bangkok. Everyone will enjoy our lavish Thai cuisine, complete with live seafood cooking station and a spectacular traditional live show, with music and dancing that will enchant the crowd. Everybody will also receive their very own krathong, all ready to float away down the river with a with a special wish or a prayer for yourself and your loved ones.

Come celebrate Loy Krathong from 6.30 pm to 10.30 pm on Monday, 11 November 2019 at the River Barge Restaurant and Pier 28, Chatrium Hotel Riverside Bangkok, at THB 2,999 net for adults and THB 1,499 net for children (6-11 years old), including complimentary krathong.
