About Singapore International School of Bangkok (SISB)

Singapore International School of Bangkok was first opened in 2001 at its Ekkamai campus. With the rapid growth of its student population, SISB identified the need to expand its campus facilities. In 2012, SISB set up a new campus spanning 17,000 square metres in Pracha Uthit which features a Preschool, well-equipped classrooms, library, science and computer laboratories, a multi-purpose hall, basketball court, swimming pool and playgrounds. The campus offers full-fledged curriculums for students from age 2 to 18.

SISB Pracha Uthit is the only International School in Thailand which is formally appointed by the Singapore Examinations and Assessment Board (SEAB) as the official examination centre for the Singapore International Primary School Examination (iPSLE) since 2006. The school is also an approved centre certified by Cambridge International Examinations (CIE) to conduct the IGCSE 'O' and 'A' levels examinations. SISB is certified by the Ministry of Education of China as a Hanban centre to conduct Chinese proficiency tests for students.

Singapore International School of Bangkok is fully accredited by the Council of International Schools (CIS), an esteemed recognition for quality international schools worldwide, and is a member of the New England Association of Schools & Colleges (NEASC). Recognised by The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award Scheme, SISB is an Independent Operator for the world's leading youth achievement award programme.

SISB currently owns and manages three campuses in Thailand, which adopt the Singapore and UK curricula as the foundation for teaching and learning.
