City of abundance and biodiversity
