

CPF receives honorary plaque for supporting the CONNEXT ED Project

Education Minister Mr. Nattapol Teepsuwan, as Head of the CONNEXT ED's government sector working team, granted honorary plaque to Charoen Pokphand Foods PCL (CPF) for collaboration in the project. Mr. Prasit Boondoungprasert, CPF's Chief Executive Officer, was the company's representative at the event at Centara Grand at Central Plaza Ladprao, Bangkok.

The CONNEXT ED Project is a public-private collaboration that has been on-going for 3 consecutive years in an effort to drive Thailand towards sustainable educational development in the country by raising the standard of education. Currently, 33 private firms has participated the project, serve as school sponsors, providing strategic counseling and budgeting through School partners. The project will achieve through knowledge sharing and strategic planning between school partners and school administrations. CPF is providing support to 295 schools in Nakhon Ratchasima, Buriram and Chaiyaphum.