

Five ways to cultivate a growth mindset

What: Five ways to cultivate a growth mindset in your organization

When: Thursday 4-Apr-19, lunch and networking 12pm to 2pm

Where: The Paperoom Sukhumvit Soi 49

Entry fee: 300 baths per person

In today's fast pace and demanding environment, many leaders can feel challenged to develop their teams because of tight deadlines and stretched resources. Without the right mindset, teams can feel overwhelmed and inefficient. Join us to discover how you can cultivate a growth mindset for you, your organization and use it to foster a better outcome.

This event will be led by Suangsarn Chotithamaporn (San). San has over 20 years' experience in leadership roles. She spent 14 years as a regional trainer in the luxury and retail industry. This is where she coached executives and teams across Asia. With a love for development and training, she's now self-employed and providing workshops, training programs and consultation to world renowned brands.

During this lunch talk, San will share five ways to nurture a growth mindset in your organization to increase productivity and positivity.
