honestbee’s Shared Cart is the next big step in food delivery ordering!

Bangkok, March 08th 2018- honestbee, Asia’s leading online delivery service for food and grocery concierge, is creating a real buzz by introducing a new feature called Shared Cart to its food delivery service.

Shared Cart is fast, free and easy to use.

How it works:
1. An honestbee food user selects a restaurant then clicks on the ‘Order with Friends’ button. Now the “Shared Cart” is created!
2. They get a link they can share via any messaging app they like.
3. Anyone who has the link can add food orders to the shared cart for the next 30 minutes.
4. Combined into one single payment and delivery!

Users of the Shared Cart will add their own food choices to a shared order using the honestbee app on their own desktop or mobile device. The menu items for these users in the same group are sent to a restaurant as one combined order and the food is delivered in one single quick delivery. Plus, as it’s a combined order, you’ll only need to pay one delivery fee since it’s considered as one order. Saving you time and money!

The Shared Cart will save you time, energy and delivery costs while making you the foodie hero in your office or group of friends!

Imagine the things you will do away with using honestbee’s Shared Cart:
 No more headaches trying to coordinate complicated group orders or being resented for writing down the wrong order;
 No more missing out on ordering while your desk neighbour devouring their delicious delivery delights;
 No more multitudes of sticky notes;
 No more tracking down busy execs who are always “in a meeting”;
 No more interruptions of productive meetings!

The list is endless…

The honestbee food delivery Shared Cart also promises food-delivery-freedom for Bangkok’s millennials. Couples can order separately on their way back from work in time for their meetup. Friends can chill-out, and order food without having to stop what they are doing and debate what to order. Shared Cart fits with today’s busy, modern and mobile lifestyles. On top of that, you’ll save on the delivery fee!
