"Inspired by Sri Racha Pineapple"

Sri Racha Pineapple

Is one of the Batavia Pineapple breeds that widely grows in Amphoe Sriracha, Chonburi Province and has been registered for Geographical Indication on August 15, 2005. It has a dark green color when it is unripe and yellow-green color when it is ripe. Sriracha Pineapple has its season during April - June, and September - December.

Speaking about Sri Racha is in an industrial zone consisting of manufacturing and shipping industries with local products. The Live's A Peace (homemade beer) are Inspiring from a local pineapple from Sriracha crafted by our professional mixologist.
