

Regent's International School Bangkok donates 5,000 masks to the King Chulalongkorn Memorial and Ramathibodi Hospitals

Miss Kwanshanok Techavijit (Middle), Director of Regent's International School Bangkok, Mr. Peter Hogan, Principal (2nd from right) and Dr. Peter Jones, Head of Secondary School (far right) along with the Regent's medical volunteer team and the school Parents' Association have donated 5,000 masks to the King Chulalongkorn Memorial and Ramathibodi hospitals.

As a Round Square school, Regent's places a high priority on service to others. On learning that medical staff are limited to 1 disposable mask per day Regent's students took action. They sourced extra masks and will give them to the hospitals for their front line medical teams at this challenging and dangerous time.
