Sea to Plate – Fresh from the Sea, cooked to your plate

Thailand is known for its tasty and savoury food, with a host of cultural influences from different countries in its traditional cuisine. Its exotic flavours and aromatic scents make it one of the most appreciated cuisines in the world. The seafood in Pattaya is undeniably known for this as well, making it one of the major destinations close to Bangkok where you enjoy a variety of fresh and delicious seafood right off the coastal region.

Being a coastal area, Pattaya boasts plenty of restaurants and hotels offering fresh catches from the sea every day and cooking it to traditional or bespoke taste of the people visiting the places. The fish and crustaceans are of high quality and many restaurants in Pattaya take advantage of this situation and specialize only in sea-food. A seafood festival was held in Pattaya last month, where there were over 200 stalls along Beach Road. These stalls showcased specialities in various cooking styles of seafood such as crabs, shrimp, squid, salmon, prawns to name a few, which gave a number of seafood enthusiasts the time of their lives that weekend.

Hotel Baraquda Pattaya Mgallery by Sofitel invites you this month, to our very own flagship restaurant: Sea, where we have a special seafood promotion in Pattaya just for you.
