

SPUIC Vietnam Project 2018

The group of 18 students led by Ajarn Surachai Alex Suantubtim, Assistant Dean – Student Affairs & Aj Rohit Agarwal, Lecturer of International Hospitality Management program, Sripatum University International College flew from Don Mueang International Airport to Tan Son Nhat International Airport, Ho Chi Minh, Vietnam to join SPUIC Global Discovery Project 2018 – International Skills Enhancement for the New Generation.

University of Economics Ho Chi Minh City, UEH arranged the class of fun and basic Vietnamese language for everyday use for our group in the morning. In the afternoon, it was the networking activity with students of International School of Business, UEH-ISB. The students from both universities were divided into four groups to discuss on the local champion of how they run their business to become a leading company and have a top brand in the market of HCM. They have also shared experiences of student lives from different cultures & countries. They did not only gain the benefit of business aspects from these activities but also they would have a long lasting relationship with friends who are a long way from their home. Highly appreciation has extended to Mr. Anh Tuan Pham, Student Support Officer, UEH who helped make all arrangements.
